

Guildford Museum retains Arts Council Accreditation

Congratulations to our museum which has successfully retained its Full Accreditation from Arts Council England.

It recognises the hard work our Heritage team have put in to:

- looking after our collection of objects to preserve and protect them for the future
- developing an engaging programme of activities, events and exhibitions
- connecting with our visitors
- providing education and learning activities
- Meeting relevant standards for policies and procedures.

Lead Councillor for Commercial Services, Cllr Catherine Houston said:

"This is great news for our museum. Our team puts a huge amount of effort into making sure that people have access to and can engage with our collections, as well as protecting them for future generations. I am delighted that their efforts continue to be recognised."

Our museum is open Wednesday to Saturdays, 12noon to 4.30pm and is free to enter. The last entry is at 4pm.

For more information about what's on at the museum, please visit our website (opens new window).

